Ruth Janney
SENDIASS
Volunteer

What people appreciate about me:

- I am organised and methodical.
- I try my best to be approachable and put people at ease.

What is important to me:

- My family, I have two grown up sons, one who lives nearby and the other in Canada, and I love spending time with them whenever possible.
- I spent almost 40 years as a primary school teacher with a passion for inclusion, and I'm really pleased that I can draw on my experience to help families of children with SEND.

How to support me:

- Share as much information with me as possible, so I can try to really understand what you need from me.
- I'm fairly new to this role, so forgive me if I can't answer your questions straight away. I will go away and find out and come back to you as quickly as possible.
